ment was felt all day. The contest was spirited, but amicable. The Scott forces succeeded in electing their candidate, Mrs. Samuel G. Jamison, of forces succeded in electing their candidate, Mrs. Samuel G. Jamison. of Roanoke, as State regent. Her opponent, Mrs. William A. Smoot, of Alexandria. was chosen vice-regent, vice Mrs. James H. McCue, of Charlottesville. Mrs. L. D. Peackle Quinby, of Onancock, was re-elected treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Gray, of Bristol, secretary. The seeting adjourned to meet next year in Richmond.

The sixteenth annual conference of Daughters of the American Revolution met at the Town Hall Tuesday with thirty delegates in attendance. Many of the business houses of the town were decorated. The conference was called to order by Mrs. S. W. Jamison, of Roanoke, State regent, and Rev. J. C. Cornick, of the Episcopal Church, offered pgayer.

Miss Alice E. Custis welcomed the visitors and Mrs. J. Stewart Jamison, of Alexandria, responded.

An address was made by the State regent of Virginia and another by the State regent of West Virginia. Captain John S. Wise held the audience in his inimitable manner for an hour and a half. His subject was, "The Part Accomac Played in the Revolution."

"Continental Hall," Mrs. W. C. Marshalt.

A luncheon of oysters, salads, cream and cake was served in the lower room of the hall by the Eastern Shore Chapter. In the afternoon the delegates motored to Accomac. There they examined the old records, after which Miss Alice Custis was hostess at a delightful reception.

The guest of honor at all the meetings was Captain Edward B. Waffes. He is eighty-seven years old, and is a real son of the Revolution. His father was Lieutenant Waffes, of the Ninth Virginia Regiment. Captain Waffes has in his possession a furblough which was granted his father by General Green. It reads:

"Lieutenant Samuel Waffes, of the Ninth Virginia Regiment, having lost all his baggage, and there being but few men belonging to the regiment here, he is permitted to go to Virginia. He will join his corps as soon as ordered, or at the first of May, without orders. Given under my hand at Camp Valley Forge, Decomber 27, 1777. To all whom it may concern:

"Major-General."

The sessions so far have spirited, but harmonious.
